Re Philadelphia airtel 7/30/70.

Enclosed are original and one copy each of the fourth part of the series referred to in our airtel of 7/30/70.

The first section was prepared by the Washington correspondent of the "Bulletin" and explains what the Federal Government can and cannot do in dealing with the New Left. The second section is a brief rundown of some fugitives who have sprung from New Left activity.

In providing this fugitive information to the "Bulletin", as authorized by the Bureau, we were requested to tell them exactly how many fugitives we had in this category. Because of the obvious danger in the "numbers game", they were advised we did not wish to specify an exact number, but that it was in excess of 20. The "Bulletin" then elected to use the number 21.

The 'System' Also Shelters Radical Ideas

Last of a series.

By LAWRENCE M. O'ROURKE

Bulletin Washington Bureau

"Any people anywhere, being inclined and having the power, have the right to rise up, and shake off the existing government, and form a new one that suits them better."

Washington — Though those words have the ring of revolution to them — and could fit quite comfortably into the literature of groups like the Weathermen — they come from a man who fought to preserve the system.

Abraham Lincoln made the remark in a speech to the U. S. Congress on Jan. 12, 1848, when he was a representative from Illinois.

Now some Americans are advocating that it is time to rise up and destroy the existing government (smash the system, or words to that effect, they shout).

They say they want a new government that will not make war, a new system that will not allow discrimination because of race, poverty, hunger or illiteracy nor an economy locked in step with the Defense Department.

Federal Outlook On Revolutionaries

In this fourth and final part of a series on the new revolutionaries, The Bulletin's Washington Bureau chief, Lawrence M. O'Rourke, tells what the Federal Government can and cannot do to protect itself against the small handful within the New Left who would like to overthrow it through the use of violence.

The Government, naturally enough, disagrees that it is time for the people to exercise the right declared for them by Lincoln.

High Ideals

Ironically enough, it is the very system and the high ideals under which it was constructed which restrain the Government's power in dealing with those who want to destroy it.

A century after the Civil War, Lincoln's words and the concept which they illustrate of the right of people to determine their government — an idea to which America has devoted its men and billions for years in Vietnam — were argued before the U. S. Supreme Court.

In a five to four decision, the court accepted the Government's argument that it had the right to pass laws and bring criminal charges under them against people who join together to rise up, with force and violence, against the system.

In the case involving a Communist party member named Junius Irving Scales, the court upheld as constitutional a 1940 federal statute known as the Smith Act.

Congress by the Smith Act made it a federal crime to

Purpose of Law

The Smith Act was passed by a Congress trying to prevent subversion of the nation's defenses at the beginning of World War II. It had been tested before, and it survived. Each time the court drew a little more tightly the requirements which the Government had to meet to prosecute under the act.

Not since Scales has the Government arrested anyone under the Smith Act.

Some say that the government's lawyers recognized that the court in the 1960s may well have stricken the act, or reduced it to virtual ineffectiveness, because of its intrusion into the First Amendment right of free speech.

So instead of once again risking a test on constitutional grounds, the government, notably the Internal Security Division of the Justice Department, put the Smith Act into a corner on the top shelf where no one hardly ever looks.

Now and then a member of Congress will rise up and insist that the Government act against Communists, or Black Panthers, or Weathermen, or Nazis, or some other anti-establishment group, under the Smith Act.

Still Dusty

The coming of the Nixon Administration and its stress on law and order on the streets has made no difference. The Smith Act is dusty — some would say atrophied.

Government lawyers, asked to discuss the Smith Act, it might be applied to any rebellious individuals or groups, made these points:

There must first be an organization which has as its purpose the overthrow of the U. S. Government by force or violence.

The organization must advocate a specific action. It is not enough, said the Supreme Court, for the organization to teach Marxism-Leninism, spread Communist party literature, conduct secret meetings, be sympathetic to a foreign power. For is it sufficient to propose the abstract theory of revolution.

The question that should be put before the court is the one used in the Scales case: Was the advocacy, in whole or in part, aimed at building up a sedition group and maintaining it in readiness for action at a propitious time?

But membership in an organization that advocates the violent overthrow of the government is not an indictable offense unless other conditions are met.

There must be a clear and present danger to the government. In other words, there needs to be a likelihood that the attempt at overthrow poses a real threat, and is not merely the dream of a person or organization lacking the intent or means to carry it out.

'Clear Proof'

If the government wants to charge a person under the Smith Act, it must, in the words of the Supreme Court, produce "clear proof that he specifically intends to accomplish the aims of the organization by resort to violence."

The person charged must be an active member of the group and have knowledge of its purposes and a willingness to carry them out.

These conditions weigh heavily on the Government.

That's the way that the Supreme Court wanted it. In an opinion by Justice John M. Harlan, the court said that "the Smith Act offenses, involving as they do subtler elements than are present in most other crimes, call for a more strict standard in assessing the adequacy of the proof needed to make out a case of illegal advocacy."

Justice Hugo L. Black, a strict constructionist, argued in dissent that the Smith Act invaded the right of free tion that advoca. Violent overthrow of the Government is not an indictable offense unless other conditions are met.

There must be a clear and present danger to the Government.

speech and that the effort by the majority to balance society's interest in free speech against society's interest in national security was "freedom destroying."

Chicago Violence

Evidence of the disuse into which the Smith Act had fallen was the Government's use of the 1968 anti-riot statute to prosecute the Chicago eight, the alleged leaders of the violence at the Democratic National Convention.

Many in the Johnson Administration, including Attorney General Ramsey Clark, had their doubts about the constitutionality of this measure. It requires that the defendants prove that the lines with the intent to provoke a riot.

Those convicted at the Chicago conspiracy trial have started along the appeals route that could end up at the U. S. Supreme Court.

Because the anti-riot statute requires a crossing between states for conviction, the Government's powers under it are restricted substantially.

The Government can rely on other laws on the books when the defendants have moved from the idea advocacy stage to action.

Detroit Indictments

Last week a federal grand jury in Detroit indicted 13 members of the Weathermen for conspiracy to commit bombings in New York, Chicago and Berkeley.

The indictments were returned under a 1968 law which requires the registration of explosives and an earlier law which makes it a crime to send explosives across state lines to damage property.

The Government does have the right under federal law to bring sabotage and espionage charges against those who destroy facilities and materials "necessary" to the national defense.

Such anti-establishment violence as smashing windows in storefronts, overturning cars, and disrupting traffic are not classified as espionage or sabotage.

Furthermore, even an act such as the destruction of records at a Selective Service office is outside the category. The Government has secured convictions for draft card burning and the destruction of draft records under Selective Service law.

Conviction Upheld

The Supreme Court upheld the conviction of David O'Brien, who burned his draft card on the courthouse steps in Boston. The court avoided the symbolic free speech constitutional question in that case by relying instead on the right of Congress to specify what acts violate the national security.

There is an historic reason why the Federal Government does not want to become involved in prosecutions of those who engage in deliberate acts of destruction and violence not related to the federal interest.

Law enforcement in this country has traditionally been a local responsibility. That it should remain so is one judgment shared by Clark and the present attorney general, John N. Mitchell.

FBI's Role

The Federal Government operates with local forces. The Federal Bureau of Investigation, for example, collects data on antiestablishment groups and shares it with local police.

Prosecutions involving the First Amendment rights of free speech, press, religion and assembly are among the most difficult and delicate in American law.

Advocating an idea is no crime, said Justice Harlan in the Scales case.

A generation earlier, Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes made a simple, yet profound, defense of the right of Americans to think, write, and speak freely.

Every idea, said Holmes, is an incitement.

U. S. Is Looking for 21 Fugitives In Bombings or Conspiracies

Cameron D. Bishop, 28, former Penn State student, ex-mental patient, has tattoo of skunk holding mirror on right forearm . . .

These five people have three things in common—all are members of the New Left, all have been named in federal warrants charging bombings or conspiracy to commit bombings and all are fugitives.

They are among 21 white revolutionaries being hunted throughout the U. S. on charges of anti-Government acts.

Miss Alpert, a Greek major at Swarthmore College, pleaded guilty May 4 to charges of conspiring to bomb Government property in New York City.

She failed to appear for sentencing and, on May 12, a bench warrant was issued for her arrest and her $20,000 bail was forfeited. Authorities said the bail represented the life savings of her parents, John and Corinne Alpert, of Forest Hills, N. Y.

While the family lived in Uniontown, Miss Alpert skipped from the fourth to sixth grade because she was so bright. She entered Swarthmore at 16. She was one of 34 New York high school students to win a national merit scholarship.

After graduating from Swarthmore, she enrolled at Columbia University for a master's degree in Greek. She dropped out in November, 1968, and became an unpaid staffer for a New York City underground newspaper.

We have discussed with these reporters the wisdom of one article in the series being devoted to fugitives now being sought by the FBI who have a Weatherman or other similar New Left background:

The ARL fugitives out of Chicago, for example, CATHY WILKERSON, KATHY BOUDIN and SILAS and JUDITH BISSELL. BOUDIN, BISSELL AND WILKERSON were all educated here in Philadelphia at Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts and Swarthmore, respectively.

This, of course, has an excellent news potential here and displays these persons in the proper light - fugitive criminals.

QUARTERLY SUMMARY

Potential Counterintelligence Action

On 1/10/70, eleven white persons ranging in age from 15 to 30 years caused approximately $1,500 damage at WCAU-TV, the CBS affiliate located on City Line Avenue, Bala Cynwyd, Pa., (mailing address Philadelphia, Pa.). The incident took place at approximately 1:30 p.m. at which time the group entered the WCAU-TV building and immediately started breaking windows, smashing furniture, and tearing telephones from the walls. The rampage lasted approximately five minutes. The group attempted to gain access to the broadcasting area of the building but WCAU employees were able to repulse them. No broadcasting equipment was damaged nor were broadcasts interrupted. The group took the action allegedly because they opposed a CBS program shown some days earlier which they considered critical of the Black Panther Party (BPP).

The Lower Merion Township PD, Ardmore, Pa., which has jurisdiction over the area, arrested the 11 individuals on WCAU-TV property. These individuals currently are awaiting prosecutive action in Montgomery County, Pa., in which county Lower Merion is located.

The "Philadelphia Free Press", an underground weekly newspaper self-described as an "independent radical newspaper", Volume 3, #1, Page 3, dated 1/12/70, contained an article concerning the invasion of WCAU on 1/10/70 and in the article claimed that the group who caused the damage to WCAU-TV was the Quaker City SDS Weatherman.

[REDACTED]

It is the opinion of informants who are familiar with SDS activities in the Philadelphia area that the "Philadelphia Free Press" was attempting to exploit the notoriety in connection with the damage at station WCAU by claiming that SDS Weatherman faction exists in Philadelphia when such is not the case.

The group who damaged WCAU-TV was led by two individuals from New York City both of whom have been identified as SDS Weatherman activists in New York City but the remaining nine local individuals were unknown to Philadelphia SDS informants.

The "Philadelphia Free Press" (PFP) holds weekly meetings each Wednesday night which are announced in the weekly issues of the paper which is published the preceding Monday.

In order to ascertain if the PFP is involved with or identical to SDS Weatherman in Philadelphia, [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] were instructed to attend weekly PFP meetings. [REDACTED] attended the PFP meeting on 1/21/70 and [REDACTED] attended the PFP meetings on 1/21/70 and 2/4/70.

Each informant advised that at the PFP meetings of 1/21/70 and 2/4/70 there were only passing references made to the alleged SDS Weatherman faction invasion of WCAU-TV and that the references were concerned with the problems which have been experienced in raising bail money for those arrested.

However, both informants advised that a violent factional dispute arose at the meeting of 1/21/70 primarily over PFP financial status. Allegations were made that [REDACTED] of the paper, had been misappropriating funds and that the paper was then $7,000 in debt. Additional allegations were made against [REDACTED] and some of his friends that they had been collecting from PFP advertisements but not turning in the money to the paper and also that they had been accepting gifts such as clothing and recordings from PFP advertisements to be distributed among all the members of the PFP staff but had kept these gifts for their own individual use.

There was an additional dispute over the policies of PFP. [REDACTED] and his followers claimed that the principle publisher of PFP, [REDACTED] has been pro-Marxist in articles [REDACTED] and editorials appearing in the paper and has devoted too much space to stories of national interest and too little space to stories of local interest.

[REDACTED] in turn accused [REDACTED] of having mishandled PFP finances so badly that the newspaper would get into serious trouble if the IRS should check the paper's finances.

About 50 individuals attended the meeting, most of whom were members of the staff of PFP.

Indicative of the factionalism that resulted at the meeting is that the issue of PFP published on 1/12/70 which reported the WCAU-TV incident listed three publishers and 36 members of the staff where as the issue of 1/26/70, following the fight, listed only two publishers and 12 members of the staff.

During the meeting of 1/21/70, the dissidents led by [REDACTED] left the meeting while [REDACTED] and [REDACTED], [REDACTED]

Both informants have been instructed to learn as much as possible concerning PFP financial troubles during future PFP meetings and it is planned to make such information available to IRS. It is believed that it would be unwise to furnish such information to IRS at this time as it might jeopardize both informants since the [REDACTED]

It is felt, however, that such information could be confidentially furnished to IRS after an interval of several weeks without jeopardizing either informant.

It is noted that PFP's editorials and newsgathering policies have been anti-Vietnam War, anti-draft, and anti-establishment, and that PFP summed up its statement of political principles in its issue of 1/26/70 as stating "We support revolutionary (class-conscious) struggles".

Pending Counterintelligence Action

As the Bureau has been advised in previous correspondence, the main target of counterintelligence action in the Philadelphia Division has been the SDS and particularly the SDS Labor Committee (LC). Indicative of this is the following:

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

On 9/22/69, [REDACTED] advised that on 9/20/69 [REDACTED] then the leader of the Philadelphia SDS LC, and seven other LC members, [REDACTED] met at FRASER's residence, 320 South 10th Street, third floor, Philadelphia, Pa., concerning the selection of a candidate for the Alliance Party (AP) for the First Council vacancy, Philadelphia City Council, to be filled in the November 1969 municipal election.

Informant noted that the AP is the name used by the LC in its political activities.

During the meeting [REDACTED] pointed out that he himself had been the original candidate but had to withdraw his candidacy because he was under 25 years of age and the minimum age for candidate for the Philadelphia City Council is 25.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

It is noted that 9/20/69 was the final date for filing nomination papers for the November 1969 Philadelphia municipal election.

[REDACTED] after having been publicly discredited in the local press, even including the underground paper PFP, lost his effectiveness as the leader of the Philadelphia SDS LC and left Philadelphia permanently during the week of 11/16/69 when he moved to Baltimore, Md. No individual leader has come forward to replace [REDACTED] as leader of the LC since his departure. It is noted that during the past several months the LC has been the only continuing SDS activity in the Philadelphia area. Indicative of how ineffective the LC has become since [REDACTED]'s exposure are the following:

The LC, prior to 11/11/69, gave extensive wide spread publicity to a rally scheduled for 11 a.m., 11/11/69 at College Hall Green, University of Pennsylvania (UP), to show support for striking General Electric workers and urging UP students to picket GE recruiters when they appear on the UP campus. This rally drew no support and "The Daily Pennsylvanian", student newspaper of UP, issue of 11/12/69, Page 1, contained an article which stated that the rally attracted "only a handful of spectators". It is noted that [REDACTED] was one of two speakers at the rally.

The Philadelphia SDS LC originally planned a regional conference at UP on 11/23/69 but because of a lack of response from the NYC LC, changed this to a city-wide conference. However, even reducing the conference from a regional one to a city-wide did not save it from failure since only about ten individuals appeared and the conference schedule was not carried out. The leader of the attempted conference was [REDACTED] since [REDACTED], the former leader of LC, had already moved to Baltimore.

"The Daily Pennsylvanian" issue of 11/24/69, Page 1, contained a photo of the city-wide conference of the SDS LC held on 11/23/69. The photo showed only three individuals present at the conference. The caption accompanying the photo said that the agenda for the city-wide SDS LC conference was scrapped when it became evident that no more than ten people would be present. It is noted that [REDACTED] was not at the 11/23/69 conference.

The publicity in "The Daily Pennsylvanian" concerning the complete failure of the SDS LC city-wide conference on 11/23/69 was arranged by UP [REDACTED] SOI of the Philadelphia Office, as part of this office's Cointelpro.

A Fraser-Borgmann Defense Fund musical benefit was scheduled for 12/6/69 by the LC at Temple University. The Fraser-Borgmann Defense Fund referred to the arrest of [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] by the Philadelphia PD in April 1969 on charges of illegal possession of explosives and conspiracy and their subsequent release on $100.00 bond each for Grand Jury action. The musical was a failure in that only 28 individuals including LC members appeared. The LC leaders cancelled the musical because of the poor turnout and after protests by those who had paid admission, refunded the admission price to those individuals. The LC leaders were very disturbed by the loss of over $100,000 involved in the endeavor and were also disturbed that other Left Wing organizations in the

The following plans are submitted for the consideration of the Bureau and other interested offices.

Initially it is necessary that the demands of the BUF and the reaction to and probable rejection of the demands by the NMC leadership be made known to the leadership and rank and file members of local black militant groups in the major cities in the United States.

This can most effectively and expeditiously be accomplished by utilizing the services of a syndicated newspaper columnist who is friendly to the Bureau and whose column appears in newspapers in most major cities. This plan would also alert the rank and file NMC membership and supporters in areas such as Philadelphia where little of the national planning around the demonstration has filtered down.

After general publication of the BUF demands on the NMC, local informants and sources in black militant groups can urge that their respective organizations make similar demands on national and/or local NMC organizations. In addition, sources in the latter organization can be utilized pro or con, depending on local thinking, to disrupt the planning and harmony of the NMC locally and nationally.

It is believed the above proposals could create discontent and disunity in the NMC; create ill feeling between some black militant organizations and the NMC; and genuinely hinder efforts to organize an effective demonstration on 11/15/69

POTENTIAL COUNTERINTELLIGENCE ACTION

The main target for counterintelligence action in the Philadelphia Division continues to be the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS). The existence of two factions of the SDS in Philadelphia offers the most potential for counterintelligence action against the SDS. As noted in detail in communications to the Bureau under the SDS caption, the SDS Labor Committee and the University of Pennsylvania Chapter of SDS jointly initiated the demonstration against the University City Science Center on 2/18/69 with the subsequent sit-in at College Hall on campus. The demands made by [REDACTED] and the other Labor Committee members active in the demonstrations were too excessive in the view point of the more conservative Penn SDS leaders and other Penn students and faculty members who joined the demonstration, and as a result, [REDACTED] and the other Labor Committee members were "frozen out" of all leadership participation in the discussions with university trustees. This act further alienated the two SDS factions and the Labor Committee has continued to be highly critical of the settlement of the sit-in as a "sell out" of the Labor Committee. To date, the university trustees have done little, if anything, to augment the agreement reached as to donating land and funds to build low cost housing for Negroes allegedly displaced by expansion of the university and the University City Science Center.

As in the past, Philadelphia will continue to explore possibilities of creating and fostering factionalism among SDS leaders and members.

PENDING COUNTERINTELLIGENCE ACTION

Informants and sources have been instructed to use every discreet opportunity to widen the schism between the two SDS factions in the greater Philadelphia area.

As noted in Philadelphia airtel to the Bureau dated 3/25/69 in the SDS captioned matter, Philadelphia Police Commissioner RIZZO was widely quoted in local newspapers concerning a "Manual on Revolution", the local SDS was reportedly distributing to key members of SDS. The pamphlet instructs readers on how to make Molotov cocktails and other explosives for use against the "pigs". While the accuracy of the Commissioner's charges can be effectively challenged, the notoriety given the SDS further stained the reputation of the organization in many quarters, particularly among liberal groups such as the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) and set the stage for further events which hurt the SDS image.

On 3/29/69 [redacted] an anarchist, anti-establishment type, was arrested by the Philadelphia Police Department (PHPD) and charged with possession of narcotics. Newspaper accounts of the arrest gave publicity to the fact that SDS literature, among others, was found in his possession at the time of his arrest. This was a fortunate situation inasmuch as [redacted] is not an active member of SDS and is much too "way out" to confine himself to such mundane activities.

[redacted]

Shortly thereafter on the night of 4/9/69 [redacted] armed with a search warrant, raided the apartment of [redacted] and [redacted] and discovered lead pipe, black powder, fuse material, and one-half pound of what appeared to be C-2 plastic explosives. [redacted] along with [redacted], a member of the Labor Committee, and [redacted] a member of the New York Labor Committee, were arrested and charged with illegal possession of explosives and conspiracy, and held under $15,000 bond.

The charges against [redacted] a sophomore at the University of Pennsylvania, and [redacted] were subsequently dismissed because of the fact they were merely visiting in the apartment; however, the charges against [redacted] and [redacted] remain and will be presented to a Grand Jury.

The wide publicity given these arrests was a source of concern to SDS members of both factions and the incident, coupled with the previous notoriety mentioned above, stimulated the local leader of the ACLU to publicly criticize the SDS. Criticism from such a recognized liberal, anti-law enforcement figure, did more harm to the image of SDS locally among the liberal element than any single editorial or series of articles written attacking SDS.

Through informant coverage of the Labor Committee, this office was able to confidentially advise [redacted] on 4/30/69 that [redacted] and several New York Labor Committee members had gone to Oakland, Calif., to confer with Black Panther Party leaders. In view of the pending local prosecution against [redacted] Commissioner RIZZO sent a member of the CDU to Oakland, where with the cooperation of the San Francisco Office, the CDU officer was able to personally observe [redacted] and the New York Labor Committee members, in the company of Black Panther leaders at a Black Panther rally in Oakland. Local authorities intend to utilize this information to tie [redacted] in with the Black Panther Party when his case comes to court. As noted in previous correspondence in the SDS caption, the efforts of [redacted] and the others to establish rapport with the Black Panthers were totally unsuccessful.

As the Bureau is aware, the SDS National Office experienced great difficulty in securing a site for their recent national convention, in fact, delayed it until 6/18/69 because of this problem. Concerted efforts were made in May by local SDS members to secure facilities for this convention at Penn State University and the University of Pennsylvania. In both instances university officials stated that the attempts would have without any doubt, been successful because of the very

The 2/3/69 issue of "The Daily Pennsylvanian," student newspaper, University of Pennsylvania, carried an article by the editor completely ridiculing SDS. Two informants, acquainted with the editor, had independently talked to him and criticized SDS. The article followed the line of criticism expressed by the informants. Complete details were furnished to the Bureau under the SDS caption by letter 2/4/69.

As noted in referenced Philadelphia letter, reliable sources report the existence of two factions of the SDS in Philadelphia. Philadelphia will continue to explore possibilities of creating and fostering factionalism among SDS leaders and members.

It is noteworthy that the same type of factionalism exists at the national level of SDS as evidenced by reports of the recent SDS National Council Meeting held at Ann Arbor, Mich., 12/26/68 - 1/1/69. Two groups appeared to be equally matched.

Factionalism of the nature noted above offers the opportunity to further create and foster disunity. Philadelphia will remain alert to capitalize upon these conflicts and to make appropriate recommendations.

sent to a selected leader or leaders of the New Left. By letter, 12/4/68, the Bureau noted that such action was feasible if the proper subject was chosen and if the significance of the symbol could be interpreted as relating to current happenings in the New Left.

Philadelphia is currently exploring the possibility of such action.

Pending Counterintelligence Action

As previously noted, there are two factions in the Philadelphia SDS. Informants and sources have been instructed to use every discreet opportunity to widen the schism between these factions. The efforts of our informants and sources in this connection have continued to disrupt the activities of the SDS and were a major contributing factor in the decision of [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] to discontinue efforts to rejuvenate the SDS in Philadelphia.

Tangible Results

As previously noted, informants and sources have been instructed to use every discreet opportunity to widen the schism between the two factions of the Philadelphia SDS. Their efforts have caused disunity among the SDS leaders and disrupted SDS activity. One informant precipitated a quarrel between the leader of one of the factions and another active SDS member which resulted in the latter's decision to drop out of the SDS.

Miscellaneous

Philadelphia has used harassment type techniques to keep the New Left off balance. Examples of this type action include the following:

(A) Two SDS members were arrested by the Philadelphia Police Department while carrying a stolen "STOP" sign. Prior to their arrest they had attended an SDS Regional Conference in Philadelphia. Their arrest and their SDS affiliation was made known to established source, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] subsequently advised that the two SDS

members were charged with larceny, receiving stolen goods, and conspiracy and the case was bound over to the Grand Jury. [REDACTED] also advised that the case would have been disposed of before a Magistrate if the police had not been alerted to the SDS affiliation of the two subjects.

(B) The SDS Labor Committee of Philadelphia planned to create a disturbance at the Sheriff Sales of tax delinquent property on 12/2/68, thereby forcing the Philadelphia Police Department to arrest them. Such a confrontation and arrest, according to the SDS, would attract the sympathy of the working class. This information was furnished to established source [REDACTED] who advised that he and the Civil Disobedience Squad would cover the meeting and would insure that SDS plans to create a disturbance would be thwarted. The disturbance failed to materialize when the presence of the Civil Disobedience Squad "dampened the spirits" of the SDS members.

(C) "The Readers Digest", issue of October 1968, carried an article entitled, "SDS: Engineers of Campus Chaos." Philadelphia has obtained 100 reprints of this article. The reprints have proven to be a valuable tool in contacts with educators and in the development of sources and informants.

Philadelphia will continue to afford this program close, continuous attention.

The observations of your office with regard to the captioned Program are appreciated and it is felt that with the proper selectivity of subjects the approach suggested in relet could be fruitful.

In choosing a subject for such an approach, a thorough knowledge of his background and activities is necessary. In this regard, the subject or subjects chosen should be individuals with whom we have close contact through live informant coverage. Through these informants, we might be able to enhance the effect of the mailings by planning "appropriate" interpretations of the symbols.

The significance of the symbols should be slanted so as to be interpreted as relating to something that is currently going on in the New Left. In this regard, the factional disputes within SDS and the dispute between SMC and the Radical Organizing Committee readily come to mind.

Prior to instituting such a Program and with the above comments in mind, submit your recommendations as to the appropriate subject to be included in such a Program along with the symbolisms to be used and the desired interpretations to be expected.

Take no steps to carry out this phase of the Program without prior Bureau approval.

Rebulet to all offices 5/10/68 and Philadelphia letter to the Bureau 5/29/68.

Enclosed herewith is one copy each of two sketches prepared by the Philadelphia Office.

The emergence of the New Left on the American Scene has produced a new phenomenon - a yen for magic. Some leaders of the New Left, its followers, the Hippies and the Yippies, wear beads and amulets. New Left youth involved in anti-Vietnam activity have adopted the Greek letter "Omega" as their symbol. Self-proclaimed yogis have established a following in the New Left movement. Their incantations are a reminder of the chant of the witch doctor. Publicity has been given to the yogis and their mutterings. The news media has referred to it as a "mystical renaissance" and has attributed its growth to the increasing use of LSD and similar drugs.

Philadelphia believes the above-described conditions offer an opportunity for use in the counterintelligence field. Specifically, it is suggested that a few select top-echelon leaders of the New Left be subjected to harassment by a series of anonymous messages with a mystical connotation.

The enclosed sketches are a sample of such a message. This could be followed by a series of messages with the same sketch bearing captions such as "The Siberian Beetle is Black" or "The Siberian Beetle Can Talk." The recipient is left to make his own interpretation as to the significance of the symbol and the message and as to the identity of the sender.

The symbol utilized does not have to have any real significance but must be subject to interpretation as having a mystical, sinister meaning. "The Chinese Scorpion," "The Egyptian Cobra," or some such similar name would be considered to have a sinister, mystical meaning. The mathematical symbol for "infinity" with an appropriate message would certainly qualify as having a mystical, sinister meaning.

Mailing could be done from a specified location or the mailing site could be changed on each subsequent message. Consideration might even be given to sending the first message from outside the United States with subsequent messages emanating from various cities in the United States.

It is believed that the periodic receipt of anonymous messages, as described above, could cause concern and mental anguish on the part of a "hand-picked" recipient or recipients. Suspicion, distrust, and disruption could follow.

The proposed action, suggested above, is basically a harassment technique. Its ultimate aim is to cause disruption of the New Left by attacking an apparent weakness of some of its leaders. It is felt there is a reasonable chance for success. The cost of such an operation to the Bureau is minimal. The Bureau's interest can be protected with the usual precautions taken in such matters.

It is recognized that the above-described suggestion is rather broad and does not include specific recommendations.

PH 100-49929

The nature of the proposed action and the absolute necessity for selectivity in choice of intended target preclude specific recommendations by Philadelphia at this time.

The above is submitted to the Bureau for its consideration. No action will be taken without Bureau authorization.

Quarterly Summary

Potential Counterintelligence Action

The period covered by the last quarter has been relatively calm due to the summer school vacation. It is anticipated that activity of the New Left will increase now that the colleges and universities have opened for the fall semester.

As noted in referenced Philadelphia letter 5/29/68, the main target for counterintelligence action in Philadelphia is the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS). It has been reported by reliable sources that there exists two factions of the SDS in Philadelphia at the present time. Philadelphia will remain alert to capitalize upon organizational and personal conflicts of the leaders and to create and foster factionalism.

Additional information concerning the two SDS factions in Philadelphia is set out later in this letter.

and universities. The reaction was extremely favorable and Philadelphia requested an additional 20 copies of the article. Philadelphia is currently in the process of distributing this article to selected college administrators. Positive results obtained to date are set out under the next caption.

Tangible Results

1. As previously noted, it has been reported that there exists two factions of the SDS in Philadelphia. As these reports were received, informants and sources were instructed to use every discreet opportunity to widen the schism between these factions and to cause disunity among SDS members and leaders. Concurrent with this action, [redacted] and [redacted] both former national leaders of the SDS, arrived in Philadelphia, set up residence, and reportedly were prepared to "rejuvenate" SDS in Philadelphia. The Philadelphia Division was in the process of preparing a comprehensive long-range counterintelligence action designed to neutralize [redacted] and [redacted] when it was reported that they had left town. The proposed action to be submitted for Bureau approval, was in addition to the disruptive action set in motion by informants. It has now been reported that at least one of the factions was not happy with [redacted] and [redacted] and that leaders of this faction were extremely pleased to see them leave Philadelphia.

While it is not possible at this time to fully assess the role played by our informants or to accurately gauge the effect of our counterintelligence action on the decision of [redacted] and [redacted] to leave Philadelphia, there is no doubt that it was a major contributing factor. Informants and sources in Philadelphia and in other pertinent field offices are being alerted to attempt to learn the full extent of our influence in this matter.

2. As previously noted, Philadelphia has made wide use of the article appearing in "Barron's" magazine. Positive results and comments made by recipients include the following:

A vice president for general administration, Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa., quickly noted the similarity between Temple University and Columbia University. Both, he noted, are located in areas adjacent to Negro communities. Both have engaged in rather extensive expansion programs. The expansion program at Temple University has necessitated the acquisition of property of entire neighborhoods of Negro homes. He felt this could be a major issue on the campus this coming semester. He volunteered to pass the article on to other administrators since he felt it would awaken them to the need for immediate, firm, action in dealing with rebel students. In addition, arrangements were made to confidentially obtain pertinent background information concerning faculty members, which prior to this contract had been unavailable.

The Public Information Officer, Bryn Mawr College, Bryn Mawr, Pa., described the article as "most informative" and suggested that it be placed in the hands of all the Deans of Bryn Mawr College. It is interesting to note that prior contacts with this individual had been rather "cool" whereas this contact seemed to "break the ice" and it has undoubtedly improved our relations.

The Provost, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pa., did not hesitate to state he is in agreement with the theme of the article that authorities at Columbia University were too lenient and too indecisive in their handling of the student disruptions. He said he felt student demonstrations should be dealt with speedily and directly and that no concessions should be made to student demonstrators who seek only to disrupt educational institutions. The article was subsequently made available to the Dean of the Graduate School, the Vice Dean of the Graduate School, and the Security Officer, University City Science Center, University of Pennsylvania. Comments of all were similar to those expressed by the Provost.

The article was made available to the Executive Vice President of Saint Joseph's College, Philadelphia, Pa. He stated he was familiar with the article and had used it in a seminar of faculty members prior to the beginning of the current academic year. He said he and the president of Saint Joseph's College are in agreement with the article and they feel that any attempt by SDS or any other similar student group to take over the campus should be dealt with forcibly and quickly.

The article has also been made available to established sources at Pennsylvania State University, Lehigh, Bucknell, Franklin and Marshall, Swarthmore, Haverford, Villanova, and others. Recipients made comments similar to those expressed above. This article served the dual purpose of informing recipients of the true nature of the New Left while at the same time cementing our relations with these recipients.

Miscellaneous

By letter dated 8/12/68, Philadelphia submitted a suggestion whereby a private organization would sponsor a pamphlet exposing the SDS. The Bureau advised on 8/27/68 that similar arrangements were being made at the Bureau through other sources and that the pamphlet suggested by Philadelphia would be a duplication of effort.

Philadelphia will continue to afford this program close, continuous attention.

This War should be called
"The War of (us) Americans (vs) Militants" Leading the Story where I am starting the story of [REDACTED], of what he saw in Chicago.

[REDACTED] thinks this ought to have a title pick any one of the following titles.

- (1) The War Between Americans & Militants
- (2)

By Gene [redacted]

[redacted] and his wife [redacted] along with [redacted] and [redacted] with their little orchestra act called the Tijuana Brats consisting of 5 boys and 1 girl ranging from ages of 13 to 17 years. [redacted] went to the Dem. National Convention for ^{Victor} Hubert Humphrey headquarters at the Conrad Hilton in Chicago, Ill.

This is [redacted]'s observations and opinion as to what he saw happen with the brats.

While the Brats were playing in the Continental and Hubert Room promoting Vice Pres. Hubert Humphrey the hippies were allowed to walk through the lobby, etc. and also walk around on the dance floor of the above ball room ^{located} right in front of the stages where the Tijuana Brats were performing.

[redacted] was well informed, he knew that the militants led by Ray Brown had warned the Demo Nat Committee and their chairman not to hold the convention in Chicago, or there would be trouble. [redacted] took this information when he went to Chicago with the group, contacted Secret Service immediately upon arrival in order for them to be arrested.

and it was done in this manner. They sent a secret service man and this is what he told the Brits and the group,
"Always travel at least in pairs, try to stay out of trouble areas, if you see trouble coming, run as fast as you can and keep screaming as loud as you can for help."
The same afternoon, 11:50 AM on Aug.
79 - we were sent by bus out on Mustang Ave, about 7 blocks from Conrad Hilton, suddenly [redacted] realized we were in McCarthy Territory, where McCarthy followers were amongst them where the hippies, the good ones and the militant. we then retreated to our bus, and were suddenly surrounded by the hippies and hippies amongst them, we, the militants dressed in blue jeans. Some of them had blue jean jackets, blue jean trousers, some had just blue jean jackets, some had just blue jean trousers. [redacted] then realized that it was very well planned that the dress gave meant, ranks of the militant. Our bus was pounded, and shaken to the point of almost being turned over and the police arrived just in time to save us, and then returned to Hilton. [redacted] then questioned the authorities as to why we were put into such a position, committee chairman for Robert H. Humphrey, [redacted]

[redacted] then learned the code signals of the good hippy and the militant. All he had to do was to put what he thought was the good hippy hold up the V sign and say "Peace Brother", if they responded they were the good hippies if they didn't, they were the militants.

on the shoulder

The militant did things such as this - there were from 8 to 10,000 of them in the Ball Park and our marauder our forces in this manner by ordering a certain amount of these groups to run in one direction while maintaining the masses in a stationary position. While our forces ran after those hippies that were running they released their mass force in the opposite direction when our forces realized they were out manoeuvred a bloody mess followed. The militants were carrying rough signs printed by some printing press with a picture on it of (the hood, leg) under which it in what bold print which appeared to be about 6 in high was as follows - (The) (four letter word) Draft which made any red blood American blood boil beyond the restraining point, and got our forces started. Back to the Hilton, they broke in big plate glass windows, threw tear gas and stick bombs while we were up on the [redacted] Hilton and the Hilton

U. H. H. and wife Muriel and family. Every was wiping their eyes because of the sting of tear gas and near misses from strike bombs. [redacted] thought Mayor Richard J. Daley did a splendid remarkable, stupendous job of protection not only the two candidates who could be [redacted] the next president of the United States and also of the people present in Chicago. He did a tremendous job not only to all of the above, but in trying to preserve Communism in our nation. Mayor Daley is to be congratulated for having the intestinal fortitude in spite of the adverse reaction

The TV cameras were so situated in trees, on bldgs. that they could not see what you call police brutality, but could not televise the hor. scenes of the rioters breaking up the Conrad Hilton, breaking the big plate glass windows, the rioters tear gas bombs, strike bombs and using profanity in its ugliest form.
I was told they could not be prevented from doing this because this is called "freedom of speech & expression".
They could not take the signs away from them for the same reason.
They could not be prevented from springing into the lobby and ballroom at the Conrad Hilton, because

Now, gentlemen, I ask you is this really and truly America we want it - or not?

Do you have enough intellectual fortitude to print in your papers
the above document or don't you?

The above article was written by a graduate student at Columbia University and is ^{an} excellent critique of the campus disruptions at Columbia last spring. This article calls for firmness on the part of college administrators and puts the actions of student agitators into a proper perspective. We have previously furnished this article to numerous Bureau offices for distribution to college administrators. PHlet pointed out the excellent results it was obtaining through the distribution of this article and pointed out that it was an excellent way to contact college administrators. PH Office requested 20 additional copies. It was previously furnished 15 copies which it has distributed.

Re Bureau letter 7/29/68 furnishing reproductions of an article appearing in "Barron's" magazine entitled "Campus or Battleground? Columbia is a Warning to All American Universities."

The article has been furnished to educators and administrators of 12 different colleges and universities in the Philadelphia Division area. Reaction has been most favorable. A Vice President for General Administration, Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa., quickly noted the similarity between Temple University and Columbia University. Both, he noted are located in areas adjacent to Negro communities. Both have engaged in rather extensive expansion programs. The expansion program at Temple has necessitated the acquisition of property of entire neighborhoods of Negro homes. He felt this could be a major issue on the campus this fall. He was extremely pleased to get the article and volunteered to pass it on to other administrators since he felt it would awaken them to the need for immediate, firm action in dealing with rebel students.

The Public Information Officer at another college in Philadelphia reacted promptly by stating she felt the article should be placed in the hands of the Dean of Students, the Dean of Student Activities, and other college officials. It is noted that there has been no serious student disorder on this campus although the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) has been active on campus. It is also interesting to note that prior contacts with this Public Information Officer had been rather "cool" whereas the current contact "broke the ice" and has undoubtedly improved our relations with her.

The above experiences are indicative of the value of this reprint in informing college administrators of the true nature of the New Left. Philadelphia believes the article can be used as an entree to meet and develop other college administrators who are not established sources. It is recommended the Bureau authorize the use of this reprint for this purpose. If the Bureau approves this suggestion, Philadelphia requests an additional 20 copies of the reprint.

No action will be taken without Bureau authority. The Bureau will be kept advised of additional positive results.

Reurlet 8/12/68.

For your information, arrangements are currently being made at the Bureau through other sources for a pamphlet to be published exposing the SDS.

Such a pamphlet as suggested in relet would, therefore, be a duplication of effort.

Your suggestion is appreciated and you should continue to afford this program your continued attention.

NOTE:

By relet PH pointed out that in connection with previous counterintelligence efforts the Catholic War Veterans (CWV) had prepared a series of leaflets exposing the W. E. B. DuBois Club and that it had also printed a pamphlet on civil disobedience containing the Director's statements on that subject. The CWV has borne the expense of printing and distributing this material. PH suggested that a pamphlet be prepared on the SDS by the PH Office and upon approval by the Bureau be given to the CWV who would publish the material. A similar pamphlet as suggested in relet is currently being printed for publication by another organization. For this reason, PH's request is being denied as it would be a duplication of effort.

ReBulet to all offices 5/23/68 and Philadelphia letter to Bureau 5/29/68.

As noted in referenced Philadelphia letter, established contacts within the Catholic War Veterans (CWV) made it possible to prepare a series of leaflets exposing the W. E. B. Du Bois Clubs of America (DCA). A similar pamphlet captioned, "A Time of Challenge" was also prepared which included the Director's statement from an FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin. This pamphlet dealt with civil disobedience. All of the pamphlets were printed and distributed by the CWV nationally.

Established contacts at CWV have now indicated they would be willing to endorse a similar project to expose the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS). Cost of printing and distribution would be assumed by the CWV.

It is believed an effective pamphlet could be prepared from public source material showing the history of SDS, its leaders, its philosophy, and activities. An example of such material is the article appearing in the 5/20/68 issue of "Barron's" magazine which the Bureau furnished to the field under the "COINTELPRO - NEW LEFT" caption on 7/29/68.

CWV sources have proven their reliability and discretion through previous above-mentioned operations.

This letterhead memorandum is classified "confidential" because data reported from PH T-1, if disclosed, could result in the identification of a confidential informant of continuing value and compromise the future effectiveness thereof.

Philadelphia's coverage of New Left organizations on campuses has been improved and will continue to be improved through programs specifically instituted for that purpose. For example, contact with Military Intelligence at Philadelphia has produced an individual whose military service included intelligence duties. This individual, a graduate student, has been contacted and is considered an excellent prospect for development as a source on New Left activities.

Existing approved security informants have been guided so that they are placed in contact with individuals in the New Left Movement. The coverage obtained by this method has been of extreme importance in meeting our obligations in this phase of our work.

Continued analysis of our racial informant coverage has revealed that some individuals in this category may be in a position to furnish information concerning New Left activity. The last two individuals, originally contacted for development as "ghetto" type informants, have been found to have great potential for coverage of New Left activity.

In another instance, a Bureau-approved criminal informant has been successfully guided so that he now provides top level coverage of New Left activity.

[REDACTED]

PH 100-49929

Recently, an individual personally contacted the FBI field office to furnish information that he thought might be of interest to the FBI. During the initial contact, it was determined that he was familiar with certain New Left activity. Subsequent recontact has shown he is cooperative and offers great potential for development as a source in covering activity of the New Left.

Those Special Agents presently assigned to matters involving investigation of the New Left and its activities are keenly aware of the need for good top level informant coverage. The development of new sources in the New Left through other programs which are successful will be brought to the Bureau's attention.

An analysis of the activities of the New Left on college campuses in the Philadelphia Division territory within the past year indicates that the lack of violence was due primarily to the absence of forceful leaders in the movement.

It has been reported that [REDACTED] former Interorganizational Secretary, National Office, SDS, Chicago, Ill., whose term expired at the [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] is scheduled to come to Philadelphia the summer of 1968 to coordinate and lead activities of the SDS. Leadership qualities of [REDACTED] are not known to this office; however, he is reputed to be quite forceful, dedicated, and a good leader. If his reputation as a forceful leader is true, it is quite possible that under his direction campus activities could be pushed to the point by SDS to where violence would erupt and police action was necessary to quell it. In this connection, if [REDACTED] does actually appear in Philadelphia to lead SDS affairs, Philadelphia will consider counterintelligence action to disclaim him or to embarrass him to the point where his effectiveness as a leader will be reduced and become ineffective. No action will be taken without Bureau authority.

SDS literature reflected that as of June 25, 1967,
[REDACTED]

"The Daily Collegian," student publication of PSU, issue of [REDACTED] page 1, contains an article identifying [REDACTED] as a Correspondent for the "National Guardian."

PH T-2 on October 8, 1965, advised that [REDACTED] was then a member of the PLP in Philadelphia but was in inactive status as he was attending PSU. An announcement of [REDACTED] inactivity because of his attendance at PSU was made at a PLP meeting in Philadelphia on September 22, 1965, and it was further announced that [REDACTED] would continue as a participating member of the Philadelphia chapter, PLP.

A characterization of the PLP is attached hereto.

PH T-1 on May 9, 1968, and June 12, 1968, advised that as of those dates [REDACTED] of the SDS chapter at PSU and that [REDACTED] was active in that chapter [REDACTED] was self-described as a Regional Representative of the SDS at PSU.

PH T-1 on April 1, 1968, advised that among those present at the National Council meeting of the SDS at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky., on March 30-31, 1968, was [REDACTED], a member of the SDS chapter at PSU. During the National Council meeting [REDACTED] was heard to state that he arrived at the University of Kentucky three or four days prior to March 31, 1968, and was primarily responsible for setting up the National Council meeting. [REDACTED] implied that he was the "moving force" behind the National Council meeting.

PH T-1 on April 4, 1968, advised that [REDACTED] attended a meeting of the PSU chapter of the SDS on April 2, 1968. During the meeting [REDACTED] commented on the National Council meeting that he had attended at Lexington, Ky., on March 30-31, 1968, and stated that he did not believe that the National Council meeting had accomplished enough. [REDACTED] recommended that black power groups, not identified, should receive help from "the left" but did not indicate what type help they should receive.

"The Daily Collegian," student publication at PSU, issue of [REDACTED] page 1, contained an article captioned, [REDACTED]

The article reflected that [REDACTED] SDS, De-Facto Chairman, stated that SDS had only considered various militant devices such as a program of "massive disorders" to point out to students on campus national and international issues. According to the article [REDACTED] stated that "disruption of some university functions was discussed as an eventual possibility."

The article further reflected that [REDACTED] said that his complaint about the SDS' recent inactivity was based on the absence of committees, although the SDS does not "tend to get bogged down into committees."

"The Daily Collegian," issue of November 2, 1967, contains an editorial captioned, "The Wrong Way." The editorial noted that at PSU a few members of the SDS, but not the whole organization, had voiced a plan to short-circuit the university's electrical system and to wreck the university's water supply by turning on every available faucet and spigot for a full day. According to the editorial, SDS felt that the university administration would listen to their complaints only when they employed extremism as a tactic. The editorial pointed out that SDS was contradicting its own name when it tries to infringe on the rights of groups and organizations opposed to a liberal philosophy on being heard.

"The Daily Collegian" issue of November 22, 1967, page 1, contained an article captioned, "SDS Challenges LEWIS' Stand."

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

PENNSYLVANIA STATE UNIVERSITY,

According to the article, members of SDS on November 21, 1967, challenged the statements of CHARLES LEWIS, Vice-President for Student Affairs, concerning PSU's right to deal swiftly and firmly with demonstrators that disrupt the functions of the university and "trample upon the rights and freedoms of others."

The article also stated that SDS was sponsoring a Vietnam vigil in conjunction with the coalition of Citizens for Peace in Vietnam with Freedom Union and various church organizations at 12:00 noon, November 22, 1967.

On November 21, 1967, PH T-1 advised a demonstration would be held on campus of PSU, University Park, Pa., for the purpose of opposing current United States policy in Vietnam. PH T-1 advised organization known as Citizens for Peace in Vietnam, State College, Pa., will sponsor the demonstration and will be joined by the Pennsylvania State University chapter of SDS.

The demonstration was to consist of a silent vigil to mourn deaths of our young men "needlessly sacrificed" in Vietnam.

On November 22, 1967, PH T-1 advised demonstration took place as scheduled at 12:00 noon on November 22, 1967, at the foot of the mall, entrance to PSU. There were approximately 50 people in attendance, and it lasted less than an hour.

PH T-1 described demonstration as a "flop" and one which was badly organized. It was noted that the public address system which was to be used in the demonstration would not work.

PH T-1 and PH T-3 on May 24, 1968, advised that at 2:00 p.m., May 24, 1968, approximately 30 members of PSU's SDS group entered "Old Main," Main Administration Building, PSU, and presented a petition to CHARLES LEWIS, Vice President in Charge of Student Affairs, PSU, which petition protested PSU's alleged relationship with the Institute for Defense Analysis. The SDS group requested the petition be mimeographed and the original petition returned to the SDS. The petition was returned to the SDS and the group dispersed at 3:40 p.m. The meeting with LEWIS was orderly and there were no disturbances.

PH T-1 on June 12, 1968, advised that no activities or demonstrations on the part of SDS at PSU during the past year resulted in violence or police action against the demonstrators.

NATIONAL GUARDIAN

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications", revised and published as of December 1, 1955 by the Committee on Un-American Activities, U. S. House of Representatives, comments the publication "National Guardian" as follows:

"Established by the American Labor Party in 1947 as a 'progressive' weekly newspaper. Although it denies having any affiliation with the Communist Party, it has manifested itself from the beginning as a virtual official propaganda arm of Soviet Russia."

(Committee on Un-American Activities Report, Trial by Treason: The National Committee to Secure Justice for the Rosenbergs and Morton Sobell, August 25, 1956, p. 12)

PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY

A source advised on April 20, 1965, that the Progressive Labor Party (PLP), formerly known as the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM), held its first national convention April 15-18, 1965, at New York City, to organize the PLM into a PLP. The PLP would have as its ultimate objective the establishment of a militant working class movement based on Marxism-Leninism.

"The New York Times", City Edition, Tuesday, April 20, 1965, page 27, reported that a new party of "revolutionary Socialism" was formally founded on April 18, 1965, under the name of the PLP. The PLP was described as an out-growth of the PLM. Its officers were identified as Milton Rosen, New York, President, and William Epton of New York and Mort Scheer of San Francisco, Vice Presidents. A 20-member National Committee was elected to direct the Party until the next convention.

According to the article, "The Progressive Labor Movement was founded in 1962 by Mr. Rosen and Mr. Scheer after they were expelled from the Communist Party, USA, for assertedly following the Chinese Communist line."

The PLP publishes "Progressive Labor", a bimonthly magazine; "Challenge", a monthly New York City newspaper; and "Spark", a west coast newspaper.

The April, 1967 issue of "Challenge", page 14, states that "This paper is dedicated to fight for a new way of life - where the working men and women own and control their homes, factories, the police, courts, and the entire government of every level."

A second source advised on September 26, 1966, that the PLP utilizes the address of General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn, New York, but also utilizes an office in Room 617, 1 Union Square West, New York City, where PLP publications are prepared.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left", which the Party has "going for us." At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anti-communist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966 issue of "New Left Notes", the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of April 18, 1967 was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

On November 20, 1967, a source advised that the PADU is a draft-counseling and anti-Vietnam activity of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), formed in Philadelphia as a result of specific instructions outlined at the SDS Convention in Ann Arbor, Michigan, in June 1967, ordering that draft resistance unions be formed throughout the United States. Its headquarters are located in a storefront at 1515 South Street, Philadelphia, Pa., and its leaders and active workers live in a communal arrangement in a three-story row house at  Philadelphia, Pa.

On June 27, 1968, the same source advised that PADU is no longer operative.

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left", which the Party has "going for us." At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anti-communist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966 issue of "New Left Notes", the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of April 18, 1967 was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

[REDACTED] included therein were [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] Philadelphia, Temple University convention delegate, National Council delegate; and [REDACTED] [REDACTED] Philadelphia, Pa., Temple University convention delegate. PH T-2 noted that the SDS National Council meeting was on July 12, 1967.

PH T-1 advised in December 1967 that [REDACTED] was sent to Philadelphia by the national headquarters of the Progressive Labor Party (PLP) at New York, N. Y., to organize the PLP in Philadelphia.

A characterization of the PLP is attached hereto.

PH T-3 on March 3, 1968, advised that the Temple University SDS chapter continued to function as a recognized campus group as of that date. The informant advised that SDS meetings and activities were poorly attended and that the "Temple News," the university's student newspaper, was not giving SDS coverage.

TEMPLE UNIVERSITY,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

PH T-1 on June 27, 1968, advised that the SDS leaders at Temple University continue to b [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. He noted that SDS activity at that time was practically non-existent at Temple.

PH T-1 on April 17, 1968, made available a pamphlet captioned "The University at War," distributed by SDS at Philadelphia during April 1968. The pamphlet claims that the University City Science Center at the University of Pennsylvania is performing research and development work in direct complicity with the American war of aggression in Vietnam. The pamphlet reflects that it was prepared by [REDACTED] and [REDACTED].

PH T-1 advised that [REDACTED] is affiliated with the SDS at the University of Pennsylvania, and the [REDACTED] is affiliated with the SDS at Bryn Mawr College, Bryn Mawr, Pa.

The above pamphlet also lists [REDACTED] as the SDS representative at Temple University.

PH T-3 on May 9, 1968, advised that a student from Columbia University named MIKE RUDD was scheduled to appear at an SDS rally in Philadelphia at 11:30 a.m., May 9, 1968.

PH T-3 advised 1:30 p.m., May 9, 1968, that SDS held a rally at Temple University Mall on that date at 11:30 a.m., but scheduled SDS speakers failed to appear. A student group, called Committee for Action (CFA), soon took over the meeting, attended by about 200 students, and by about 11:50 a.m. led about a group of 75 to 100 students to Conwell Hall, where they demanded an audience with Temple University President, PAUL ANDERSON.

Among the demands were the following:

1. The university grant tenure to Dr. SIDNEY SIMON. SIMON has been denied tenure for reportedly refusing to grade students.
- [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

NEW LEFT ACTIVITY---
TEMPLE UNIVERSITY,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

2. The university recognize four students who had been recommended for honors by a student-faculty committee.
3. The university discontinue all war research for the Department of Defense or other Government agencies.

The group of students remaining outside Conwell Hall broke up and returned to classes after being persuaded to do so by members of the football team, a student writer for the school newspaper, a professor, and other students. The general feeling among the student body was that the action of those inside was wrong; that the injunction should be legally tested, not violated; and that classes should continue without interference.

It appeared that SDS lost the upper hand to the CFA group and this action would seem to be entirely run by CFA.

On May 9, 1968, PH T-3 advised that the CFA had been formed by a group of students primarily to protest the action of the administration at Temple University in refusing to grant tenure to a member of the faculty who had refused to grade his students.

W. E. B. DU BOIS CLUBS OF AMERICA (DCA)

On May 9, 1968, PH T-3 advised that the SDS at Temple University consists of approximately six active members.

On May 9, 1968, PH T-3 advised that the following two individuals are leaders of the DCA at Temple University:

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] was born May 27, 1935, at Philadelphia, Pa. He is a student at Temple University and resides at [REDACTED], Philadelphia, Pa. [REDACTED]

On November 1, 1967, PH T-4 advised that [REDACTED] also known as [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] were members of the Student Club, Youth Section, Communist Party of Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware (CPEPD).

On March 4, 1968, PH T-3 advised that the DCA at Temple University was circulating a petition protesting the action of Dr. PAUL ANDERSON, President, Temple University, who on February 29, 1968, presented the Bronze Star to a member of the class of 1971 for heroism in a Vietnam military operation. Members of the DCA and others met with Dr. ANDERSON after the presentation to present the petition opposing the presentation. [REDACTED] acted as spokesman for the group.

On June 27, 1968, PH T-1 and PH T-3 advised that there has been no activity or demonstration on the part of the SDS or DCA at Temple University during the past year wherein violence erupted or police action was necessary.

PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY

A source advised on April 20, 1965, that the Progressive Labor Party (PLP), formerly known as the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM), held its first national convention April 15-18, 1965, at New York City, to organize the PLM into a PLP. The PLP would have as its ultimate objective the establishment of a militant working class movement based on Marxism-Leninism.

"The New York Times", City Edition, Tuesday, April 20, 1965, page 27, reported that a new party of "revolutionary Socialism" was formally founded on April 18, 1965, under the name of the PLP. The PLP was described as an outgrowth of the PLM. Its officers were identified as Milton Rosen, New York, President, and William Epton of New York and Mort Scheer of San Francisco, Vice Presidents. A 20-member National Committee was elected to direct the Party until the next convention.

According to the article, "The Progressive Labor Movement was founded in 1962 by Mr. Rosen and Mr. Scheer after they were expelled from the Communist Party, USA, for assertedly following the Chinese Communist line."

The PLP publishes "Progressive Labor", a bimonthly magazine; "Challenge", a monthly New York City newspaper; and "Spark", a west coast newspaper.

The April, 1967 issue of "Challenge", page 14, states that "This paper is dedicated to fight for a new way of life - where the working men and women own and control their homes, factories, the police, courts, and the entire government of every level."

A second source advised on September 26, 1966, that the PLP utilizes the address of General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn, New York, but also utilizes an office in Room 617, 1 Union Square West, New York City, where PLP publications are prepared.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left", which the Party has "going for us." At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anti-communist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966 issue of "New Left Notes", the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of April 18, 1967 was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

source advised that on October 26-27, 1963, a conference of members of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), including national functionaries, met in Chicago, Illinois, for the purpose of setting in motion forces for the establishment of a new national Marxist-oriented youth organization which would hunt for the most peaceful transition to socialism. The delegates were told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

A second source has advised that the founding convention for the new youth organization was held from June 19-21, 1964, at 150 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, California, at which time the name W. E. B. DuBois Clubs of America (DCA) was adopted. Approximately 500 delegates from throughout the United States attended this convention.

The second source advised in September, 1966, that Mike Zagarell, CPUSA Youth Director, stated that in Negro communities the Party still supported the plan to build "left" socialist centers and to solidify the Party base through the DCA. This source also advised in September, 1966, that Daniel Rubin, CPUSA National Organizational Secretary, stated the Party believes the DCA should have a working-class outlook and be a mass organization favorable to socialism, socialist countries and Marxism, and in April, 1967, advised that Gus Hall, CPUSA General Secretary, indicated the DCA primary emphasis should be on developing mass resistance to the draft.

A third source advised in September, 1967, that Jarvis Tyner was elected chairman of the DCA on September 10, 1967, at the Third National Convention of the DCA held in New York, New York, from September 8-10, 1967.

A fourth source advised during August, 1967, that Jarvis Tyner is a member of the National Committee of the CPUSA.

A fifth source advised on September 21, 1967, that the headquarters of the DCA is located at 34 West 17th Street, New York, New York.

United States Armed Forces in Vietnam.

On December 19, 1967, PH T-1 furnished the following information:

At 10:00 a.m., on December 18, 1967, four U. S. Marine Corps recruiters arrived at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa., and set up recruiting activities in rooms on the third floor of the Carnegie Building located on campus.

Shortly after their arrival, student members of SDS, Bucknell University, and Bucknell faculty members gathered in the hall outside the recruiting interview rooms and picketed by walking around the hall. Some members of the group, expressing their opposition to the Vietnam War and the presence of U. S. Marine Corps recruiters on campus, attempted to engage members of the recruiting team in conversation. The picketing continued throughout the day on December 18, 1967, with the number of pickets ranging from about 10 to 25, including faculty members.

No attempt was made by the group to interfere with recruiting activities or anyone reporting for interview with the recruiters.

Recruiting activities continued at the same location on December 19, 1967, and about the same number of SDS and faculty members picketed in the hall outside the interview rooms. Some of the group carried signs on campus outside the Carnegie Building opposing the Vietnam War, and the presence of Marine recruiters on campus. None of the pickets carried signs inside the building.

The recruiting team concluded their activities at 12:45 p.m., on December 19, 1967, and according to the source were expected to return on December 20, 1967.

On December 20, 1967, the source advised he had learned U. S. Marine Corps recruiting activities at Bucknell had been concluded on December 19, 1967, and recruiters were not scheduled to return to the campus on that date.

HAVERFORD, PENNSYLVANIA/BRYN MAWR COLLEGE,
BRYN MAWR, PENNSYLVANIA

A characterization of the SDS is attached hereto.

The "Haverford News," Haverford College student newspaper, issue of March 8, 1968, claimed in an article that thirty students had joined the newly-established Haverford/Bryn Mawr chapter of SDS, and that twelve of the thirty had also joined the national SDS organization.

The "New Left Notes," self-identified in its masthead as the weekly publication of the SDS, volume three, issue of April 8, 1968, page three, contains an article captioned "Minutes of the National Council, March 28-31, 1968, Lexington, Ky." This article reflects that there was a new SDS chapter at Haverford, Bryn Mawr, Pa., and that Haverford/Bryn Mawr had pledged $75.00 in three weeks.

Confidential Informant PH T-1, on April 1 and 3, 1968, advised that a National Council Meeting of the SDS was held at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky., March 28-31, 1968. VILLANOVA UNIVERSITY,
VILLANOVA, PENNSYLVANIA

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left", which the Party has "going for us." At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anti-communist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966 issue of "New Left Notes", the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of April 18, 1967 was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

PHILADELPHIA ANTI-DRAFT UNION (PADU)

On November 20, 1967, [REDACTED] (reliable) advised that the PADU is a draft-counseling and anti-Vietnam activity of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), formed in Philadelphia as a result of specific instructions outlined at the SDS Convention in Ann Arbor, Michigan, in June, 1967, ordering that draft resistance unions be formed throughout the United States. Its headquarters are located in a storefront at 1515 South Street, Philadelphia, Pa., and its leaders and active workers live in a communal arrangement in a three-story row house at 1531 Rodman Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

3. Action by College Administrators

By airtel, 6/10/68, under the caption of "Students For a Democratic Society, IS-SDS," Philadelphia furnished to the Bureau 20 copies of a letterhead memorandum captioned "Students For a Democratic Society (SDS), Pennsylvania State University." The LHM, composed entirely of extracts from the student newspaper at Penn State University, is illustrative of firm action by the university officials.

There are no other outstanding examples of disruptive action by militant minority elements wherein college administrative action played an important role.

Additional data concerning instant matter will be promptly furnished to the Bureau on a continuing basis as it is received.

PE 100-49929

The deadline of 6/1/68 has been met in connection with Bureau letter of 5/10/68 in the Counter-Intelligence Program. The remaining four surveys are in process at the present time and every effort will be made to meet the deadlines in a quality consistent with Bureau standards. This office has had substantial activity by the New Left coupled with relatively thorough coverage.

COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAM

Re Bureau letter to all offices 5/10/68.

Enclosed herewith is one copy of a cartoon which appeared in the 5/7/68 issue of "The Temple News."

The disruption of the "New Left" through counter-intelligence activities poses problems which have not been previously present in this phase of our work. Whereas the Communist Party and similar subversive groups have hidden their indiscretions and generally shunned publicity, the New Left groups have flaunted their arrogance, immorality, lack of respect for law and order, and thrived on publicity. Communal living quarters for unmarried male and female members of the New Left have been publicized as a badge of "free-thinking" individualism. Adherence to principles of Marxism has been freely acknowledged. Members of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) have openly admitted their affiliations and their adherence to anarchistic aims.

Publicity and public exposure of the New Left, however, can still be used effectively to thwart the growth of those organized groups such as SDS. It will be recalled that it was through such measures that we contained the W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America (DCA) and exposed it as a tool of the Communist Party.

As noted in referenced Bureau letter, we must seize upon every opportunity to capitalize upon organizational and personal conflicts of the New Left leaders. The creation of factionalism is a potent weapon which must not be overlooked. No overall plan can be projected for the use of factionalism since its use depends upon circumstances at any one given time. Its effective use depends upon timely, keen analysis of information obtained through investigation and from our sources.

A most potent weapon not to be overlooked is the use of ridicule. In the past its use has been primarily restricted against individuals through cartoons and anonymous letters. Consideration should be given to greater use of this technique to discredit the entire New Left movement. An example is the cartoon attached which appeared in the "Temple University News," student newspaper at Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa. Photographs of student "sit-ins," such as that which occurred at Columbia University, with appropriate captions, such as "Give to the College of your Choice," could be prepared and anonymously circulated among appropriate legislators, prominent alumni members, and others.

Specifically, in Philadelphia, the main target for counterintelligence under this program will be the SDS. There are no Key Activists in the Philadelphia Division territory as of the date of this letter. No specific recommendations are being made at this time; however, the following avenues of action are open and under consideration for future use:

1. Cooperative news media representatives have been used in the past. Reliability and discreetness have been proven. Recommendations for specific action will include necessary assurances that the Bureau's interest will be protected.

2. Philadelphia has used cartoons to ridicule leaders of the CP. It is felt this method has the most potential for obtaining our goals. Under consideration is a proposal that a series of cartoons be prepared and that the anarchistic aims of the New Left be emphasized by labeling them "Mobocracy." It is apparent that "Mob" action is repugnant to the majority of college students and other serious-minded youth. Methods of distributing such cartoons can be done anonymously or through established sources in each Division.

3. Philadelphia has established contacts with the Catholic War Veterans (CWV). Through these contacts it was possible to prepare a series of leaflets exposing the DCA which were printed and published by the CWV on a national basis. It is felt similar arrangements can be made for the CWV to issue a pamphlet exposing the SDS. Such a project would require the assistance of the Bureau and Chicago, the Office of Origin in the SDS case.

4. A leading member of the CP youth was neutralized when the Philadelphia Office publicized his homosexual activity. Weaknesses and deficiencies of individual members of the New Left should be used by us to neutralize them. Anonymous letters to the parents of individual members of the New Left might very well serve the purpose, neutralizing them through parental discipline.

Although the foregoing is not intended to be all-inclusive, it represents the basic approach of the Philadelphia Division to this new program. Appropriate Special Agent personnel have been alerted to this program. Recommendations for specific counterintelligence action will be submitted to the Bureau by separate letter.
